Schenck Business Solutions Forms Financial Crisis Response Team Experienced Team to Provide Professional Guidance to Companies Affected by the Current Economic Environment

APPLETON, WI – Schenck Business Solutions has formed a Financial Crisis Response Team to guide and assist companies challenged by the current economy. The team is comprised of experienced professionals with expertise in cash management, banking and financing, operations consulting, process improvement, inventory and receivables management, strategy development, technology integration and more. These individuals are available to provide specialized guidance to businesses struggling to maintain their success throughout this difficult period.

“Many organizations and their leadership are facing some of the toughest times in their history,” said Bill Goodman, President of Schenck Business Solutions. “It can be difficult for them to know where to focus change efforts—to identify what’s most critical to survival, and what will have the greatest impact. As a key financial advisor to our clients, we’ve formed the Financial Crisis Response Team to serve as a resource to businesses as they navigate turbulent times.”

Team members have been selected for their proven experience helping companies work with their current financial institution or investigate alternative financial resources, strategize to find cost savings, uncover opportunities for greater efficiency, or identify new opportunities in the marketplace. They are available to provide consulting and planning services, or to lead special projects designed to have an immediate positive impact on the bottom line. The resources of the team are coordinated by Dan Koszalinski, CMA, CPA, Shareholder, who can be reached at dan.koszalinski@schencksolutions.com or 800-236-2246, or through any Schenck location.
